The Hackney Horse.

The only way to breed any kind of live stock intelligently is to go to the best market for that kind of stock and learn what that market demands and then breed up to that demand.

The best way to breed the best horses for the best markets to get the best prices for them is to go to our great cities where most of them are used by the people who have the money to pay for what they want. If you do this you will see for yourself that the great demand for horses in our great cities, such as New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis, is for heavy leather harness horses, used in all the heavier pleasure vehicles on the streets of the city, and that all the horses are Hackneys or half-blood or imitations, even to their high action and docked tails. They have set the style also for the riding horse that you see in the parks, eliminating the gates to the "walk, trot and canter."

The horse show is also a reflection of this fashion, for the Hackneys have won the great majority of premiums for harness horses at the New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago horse shows, although they are comparatively few in number with the other horses in this country. Every fashion that lasts has a substantial basis, and the Hackney horse is no exception.

His pedigree runs back for two hundred years to Darlings Arabian, crossed upon the "Norfolk trotter," which was then the only horse in the world that had the national trotting gait, and runs through the blood of the most famous sires in England, as shown by a most carefully kept pedigree, to the present time. The Hackney is the foundation of all our best trotting families: Mambrino was a grand son of Sampson, one of the most noted Hackneys and sire of Messenger imported into the United States in 1788 and Sampson great grand son was Rydyk's Hambletonian, while the dam of Hambletonian was by Jarys Hallowood, a registered Hackney stallion.

While the trotters of the United States have been bred mostly for extreme speed for race track purpose, the parent stock of England, the Hackney, has been bred for road purposes, preserving the carriage type of conformation and high, trappy action, thus enabling him to win in heavy leather, showing him to be the perfect type of harness horse and this type being bred and fixed for two centuries makes the Hackney sire so prepotent, as to stamp his likeness and high action on his produce from any of our native mares.

The largest Hackney studs in this country are crossing them on the best bred trotting families, producing a uniform road horse. Senator Fairfax of Virginia, crossed most successfully the Hackney stallion on his native mares, selling the produce at public auction in New York City for three years at an average of over seven hundred dollars, and six years ago Wildfire, a Hackney stallion was bred on our native mares with uniformly good results, producing some of the finest and highest acting carriage and riding horses from our home bred mares. So satisfactory and certain in good results is this cross, that another and finer horse than "Wildfire" has been imported here, and his name is "Ringmaster."

Mrs. Weaver, the president of the Kentucky Federation is a charming and cultivated woman, and is arranging a delightful series of programs for the three meetings to be held June 20, 21 and 22. The local club extends a cordial invitation to the citizens of Mt. Sterling to be present at all these sessions

Stunning Suits $25, $30, $35.

A magnificent variety of over 300 suits, embracing every one of this season's favorite models. The natty Eton, with elbow or long sleeves; the trim looking Tailor Coat; also the Swagger Pony Suits.

The effects range from the severally tailored styles to the very fancy trimmed conceptions. The skirts are both plain or trimmed. Either the full flare or plaited ones that are so popular just now. They hang in the most pleasing manner, giving a decidedly graceful appearance.

Fully a score of fashionable fabrics, including Chiffon, Panama, smart looking Checks, Broken Plaids, Mixtures, Plain Weaves, etc.

The colors comprise Black, Alice Blue, Royal Blue, Reseda Green, White, Coral, Rose, Nile, Navy, and the following very select shades of Gray—Twilight, Silver, Oxford, Queens, London Smoke, Pearl, etc.

These are all new and will be greatly sought for by the fashionable dressers this spring.

These Suits have all the peculiar characteristics that distinguishes our apparel from the commonplace.

In Memoriam.

"Grow old along with me!

The best is yet to be,

The last of life for which the first was made,

Our times are in his hand

Who saith, "a whole I planned,

Youth shows but half, trust God, nor

be afraid!"

Happy is the heart that can abide the doctrine of the poet philosopher and grow old with grace,

harbinger up the treasures of youth,

which added to the subdued awareness of age lend worth to the character, and enables it to send forth

a helpful influence in all of life's duties. Few are they who have attained to the heights of blended youth and age, where the vigor

and love of youth is ever the hand-

maid of all the years as one grows in wisdom and suffering. Yet such was the accomplishment of Mrs.

Mary Jane Atchison, late of Sharpsburg, who died April the sixth. Her friends and relatives

did not realize that she was old;

indeed she was not old, for life is not measured by time, but by intensity. The years had enriched her life, and made her more and more valuable to the world. But as the life grows in value for earth,

it also ripens for heaven, in that house not made with hands, in that clime where age is not known, but

where the beatitudes of age are clothed with the charms of youth.

She was ripe and God took her.

As we understand it, to be a Christian is to unconsciously, naturally,

live by grace the principles of Christianity, and for righteous influences to emanate from the life.

Mrs. Atchison lived such a life in a large measure. She did not regard going to church so much as a service to God as a feast to enable self to acquire strength for life's duties. Modest and unpreten-sive, she lived a true life, and Sharpsburg and all her friends and loved ones will be long in realizing what they have lost. Surely the world was no blot for her nor blank;

it meant intensely and meant good;

to find its meaning was her meat

and drink. To interpret Christianity in terms of life, when sin, surroundings and death lurk near is the Christian's task. This she did in a beautiful way, always hiding her own suffering, while sympathizing with the suffering of others. She was alive while with us, but now

she has gone where all life and love. She suffered as mortals must while on the quicksand of time, but now she has planted her foot on the solid Rock of Ages, and "there shall be no night there." No it is neither sleep nor death but life made replete and perfect.

Mrs. Atchison was a daughter of Isaac and Elizabeth Trumbo and was born in Winchester, Indiana, At Wyoming, Barb county, December 2, 1852, she was married to Joshua O. Atchison, who died May 14, 1899. Mrs. Atchison had been a resident of Sharpsburg and community since April 10, 1885. She is survived by her only child, Mrs. W. H. Radliff, of Sharpsburg; one sister, Mrs. Ella Browning, of Carlisle, and also leaves five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.—L. C. K.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, or W. S. Lloyd means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Each 50 cent bottle (Mr. Lloyd sells it for 25c.) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble. Mr. Lloyd has so much faith in the superior merit of this medicine that he says: "If Dr. Howard's specific does not cure you, come back to my store and I will return your money."

If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Mr. Lloyd is making this week on Dr. Howard's specific. 41 & 43.

Short Hand Typewriter.

A Frenchman has patented a shorthand typewriter. From one to three syllables of a word are printed in plain type at each stroke of the keys. It is said that fifty words a minute can be written after a few days' practice while a normal speed of from 125 to 150 words a minute is obtained in less than two months. Speeds of 500 words a minute are not unusual among expert operators. Since no conventional symbols but plain types are employed, the "notes" are readable by anyone familiar with the process.

Special Report of Grand Jury.

The Hon. A. B. White, Special Judge of the Montgomery County Circuit Court.

We the Grand Jury for the April term of the Montgomery Circuit Court, 1906, would most respectfully report as follows:

Having been in session six days and after making such investigations as appeared necessary and proper we have found and returned indictments for various offenses and crimes; that we found upon personal inspection that the County Jail is in a safe condition and well kept.

We found that the windows of the vault of the Circuit Clerk's Office is insecure, that the gratings are loose and frail to furnish such protection as is necessary for the safety and security of that place; that the inside shutters of the County Court Clerk's Office as well as that of the office of the Circuit Clerk is out of repair and furnish no protection to either of said vaults against invasion or fire; the combination on the vault doors of the County Clerk's office is in need of repair and should be put in better condition as the outside doors of the vault cannot be locked at present.

We further recommend that the interior of the Court House down stairs be put in more slightly condition; the walls need cleaning and there is considerable amount of plastering needed in some of offices and upon the walls and ceilings of the stairway.

In this connection we desire to tender our thanks to the officers of the Court for the assistance they have rendered and the courtesies which they have shown during our term of sittings.

We would further report to the Court that in the investigation of the fiscal affairs of the county, we find that the county is considerably in debt and in our opinion all available funds should be used to liquidate this indebtedness as speedily as possible and in order to accomplish this result the most rigid economy should be practiced in expenditures of all and every kind. In this connection, we beg to report that the proposition of re-indexing the County Records at this time, is in our judgment, most judicious, unreasonable and unwise, since the county is unable to go so heavily in debt at this time and is carrying all the indebtedness it should and while we appreciate the need of a new index, we are more in need of it than many other improvements we could name that we cannot now afford and as a business proposition we would most respectfully recommend that action on this matter be deferred until the County gets in better financial condition and that we pay what we now owe, before contracting other debts of so large a sum.

The Fiscal Court in appointing a committee at its last meeting, to contract for this work, did so in a very general and unbusinesslike manner; it does not provide the sort of index desired, neither is the maximum amount to be expended stated, nor the manner in which the contract is to be let. Under this order, the committee, neither of whom is familiar with this sort of work, might expend thousands of dollars of the county's money before securing an index of any value to the county. We are of the opinion that the Fiscal Court exceeded its lawful authority in delegating, or attempting to delegate to this committee, so much power and the rights to exercise a discretion lawfully belonging to the whole Court.

We would further suggest and report that when the index is to be made that it be made by an expert, so that the index will be of some value when completed, and that the contract be let by public competitive bidding to the best and lowest bidder, under specifications prepared by competent persons, and the bidders on the work should be required to give bond to insure the county against loss from incompetency or other cause.

We therefore request the Court to direct the Clerk of this Court to at once issue a rule against each and every member of the Fiscal Court of Montgomery county, returnable on the second day of the next term of this Court, to show cause why the suggestions and recommendations herein stated, shall not be complied with.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
H. C. HOWELL,
(Cory) Foreman.

ROGERS—Mrs. Mary L. Rogers is dead at Paris. Her sister Mrs. Henrietta Williams of our county, accompanied by Mrs. R. G. Stoner and Wm Hamilton attended the burial on Sunday.

HUNT—Miss Buford Hunt, aged 27, daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Hunt of this county, died at Lexington on Friday morning, April 20 1906, after a protracted sickness. Rev. H. D. Clark conducted funeral service at Macphail on Saturday at 10 o'clock. She was a sister of Mrs. J. F. Jones and Mason Hart.

ANDERSON—Dr. R. A. Anderson of Winchester who has been in declining health for six years, died Friday morning and was buried here on Saturday. He was sixty two years old. He was buried with Masonic honors after prayer services at the grave by Rev. H. D. Clark. Dr. Anderson received his title from the fact that he was the possessor of an Indian cancer cure handed down to him by his father. This secret Dr. Anderson transferred to his son William who will continue to use the wonderful cure. Dr. Anderson was a former resident of Mt. Sterling.

Fate of Chinese is Puzzle To People.

Most of the Chinese rich and poor alike, are absolutely penniless and destitute.

It has long been a question in San Francisco what should be done with Chinatown and moving the Chinese in the direction of Columbia has been agitated. Now they are without homes and without prospects of securing any. They can get no land.

Unless the Government undertakes their relief they are in grave danger. Those who have money can not purchase property, as no one will sell to them.

Few, however, even of the richest merchants in Chinatown, saved anything of value, for their wealth was invested in the Oriental village which had sprung up in the heart of the burned district.
